Customer Reviews

I gave this publication to my 87 year old mother who now lives in a nursing home. She enjoys keeping her mind as alert as possible, and the games and exercises are not too difficult .

Some of the pages are ridiculously easy and others are ridiculously hard for my 8 year old. It was a fun book for the summer though. They seem to enjoy it.

My almost 8 yrs. daughter reached level 2 now and even though some parts are hard, you can always control what pages to do. I liked the fact that it boosts her thinking in various ways eg. synonyms, clockwise, counter-clockwise search, coloring, cross words .. etc. All these ways give her guidance of how to look differently to real-world problems. I can't wait to buy #1 when she finish this one.

Just as described, I have a 7 year old, he loves it, excellent product that initiates thinking process, highly recommended.

My daughter got one of these last year for Xmas (she was 8) and we had to limit how many pages she could do a day. She loved it so much we just keep getting them. Great entertainment and educational, really makes the kids think.

My grandson wanted to complete these all in one sitting. He is 7 1/2 and loves the challenge. Some are too difficult but his mom and dad like doing a few as well.

My daughter is 12 yrs old and enjoyed this activity book during the 'boring' summer and I like to do the activities with her during our down-time at night.

My son enjoys the activities inside of the book; however, he's had to play the games on loose pages because the binding is very flimsy.
