Those Who Can: A Science Fiction Reader

Synopsis

This unique and provocative collection assembles masterful stories by twelve of SF's greatest practitioners, including Samuel R. Delany, Harlan Ellison, Ursula K. Le Guin, and Frederick Pohl. Each story is accompanied by an eloquent critical essay in which the writer discusses his or her own story.

Customer Reviews

Imagine having a highly respected and skilled author sit down and tell you how she/he wrote their story. How they got the idea, or how they developed the characterisation, plot, pace etc? Well, this compilation accompanies each story with an article by the author explaining their technique. It's helpful and motivational.

"Those Who Can: A Science Fiction Reader" and "Paragons: Twelve Master Science Fiction Writers Ply Their Craft" are the go to books to see how the best write, using one of their best stories, and then an essay they write about the process. A very personal look into the creative process of several award winners.

A wonderful collection of short stories showing the craft of various SciFi greats with discussion. A must have for a student of writing.
